THE PACIFIC Commercial Adbertiser

SATURDAY, MAY 29.

THE QUESTION of subsidizing the Pacific mail steamers cannot be any longer said to be vital to of mails is not doubted, nor is the superiority of their touching at Honolulu. It is for this gov- tonnage, speed, appointments and general manernment now to decide whether it is worth their agement of the P. M. S. S. Nor are we informed of the amount of of the voyage. The steamers touch here for far freight and number of passengers that are transmore substantial reasons than $12,000 a year, ported to and from these islands. We again and although that amount is not an unacceptable assert, it is a decided advantage for the steamers one they could not afford to come for it, nor to on the Australian line to call at Honolulu even pass us by for want of it.

The feasibility of a home line between here and San Francisco is greater than the Gazette course out of the question, and should such a bill be would have us believe. The accommodations introduced this session, even though supported by a carefully considered and long-winded address, there for Honolulu passengers on the large steamers of | is no doubt it would meet the fate it well deserves, the present line are so uncertain that a good line | and that is rejection. of smaller steamers making this port their terminus would always be well patronised, as such | Zealand and New South Wales expires in 1883, and steamers have been in the past. If this be passengers when they cannot procure staterooms, or have to be over crowded.

A BILL TO LICENSE the sale of opium to Chinese in the Kingdom, is now under discussion before the Legislature. This bill provides for the sale think twice before adopting. SEWERAGE.

The report upon the subject of sewerage, which is made a part of the report of the President of the Board of Health to the Legislature, is an able and interesting document. Three methods of disposing of sewerage are discussed as exhaustively as the space allows, i. e., by sewers, the Rochdale system, and the earth closet system-the two latter to be used in conjunction with small sewers for carrying liquid waste only. We agree with the judgment in favor of the earth closet system. That is probably the most perfect way of disposing of night-soil known, is cleanly, favorable to health and both less expensive and more practical than to rely upon sewers for removing every kind of house waste. Now we hope to see this valuable report followed up, and our city saved from yearly deterioration in health characteristic. The President of the Board of Health says, in referring to Mr. Sterling's report, that if the Government should decide to construct sewers, it could only be done by borrowing swollen, but this we learn from the artist is money and taxing city property for paying the merely a defect of the photograph. We see no such necessity for this. No occasion exists for increasing the taxation of the people. If the Cabinet had made up the Budget with more regard to public improvements, and less to increasing the running expenses of the Government, they could have appropriated from one to two hundred thousand dollars to this purpose without straining a point or borrowing a cent. The Budget shows an additional appropriation for running expenses of the Government of $203,699.44 over the amount appropriated for such expenses at the last session. We ask the Legislature to discountenance this reckless increase of the Government expenses, and to devote our surplus to public improvements and enterprises for preserving the health of the community. Let the appropriations for regular ex-penses be placed as they have been for the past two years, and the Ministry will find $200,000 upon which to draw for sewerage works. The public expect intelligent and economical financiering, and will not consent to pay increased taxes The Annual Business Meeting that officials may have larger salaries, and that new ones be created and endowed with livings. THE SUBSIDY QUESTION.

WHEN THE Appropriation Bill comes before the Assembly, there will be many important question of subsidy to Foreign steam lines. During the Session of 1878, the Hon. W. M. Gibson, recommended a subsidy of $48,000 to be granted to the P. M. S. S. Co. for the biennial period ending March 31st, 1880. This question at that time was debated at great length, and on a motion that the item should be erased enterely from the Appropriation Bill, it was lost by 31 votes to 9. However the sum asked for, $48,000 was negatived by 28 to 13, and finally $36,000 was fixed upon as an equivalent for the benefits to be received-27 ayes against 18 noes. The fact of so many dissentients, showed clearly the feeling at that time. In the present Budget we are asked for $24,000 as a subsidy for Foreign Steamer lines. We naturally infer this for the P. M. S. S. Co. Now, as we said before, the prevailing idea is, that no subsidy should be granted unless it be to a home line. This is the opinion of those who "know the facts" and are not seeking to make profitable connections on their own account." The sum of $1,000 per month, for a monthly mail service, is too much for this small Kingdom.

The regularity and satisfactory transportations without the subsidy, therefore, why should $24,000 be quietly given away?

As for subsidizing any other foreign line, it is of

Another reason why the idea of a bome line should be considered, is that the mail contract with New it is doubtful whether the Colonies will renew it, and furthermore, we are assured of its discontinuance if true, let preparation be at once made to protect ourselves in case of a discontinuance of the present subsidised line. Suitable steamers can be had for this mail service, at short notice, if the P. M. S. S. Co. discontinue their monthly calls, a move over which they would round the "Horn." The steamers of the Occidennor did the Oceanic pursue that route on her recent trip to England to refit. The Suez Canal route is at by all mail steamers running between San Latest Styles and Patterns!

THE STATUE.

THE EXECUTION of a work of art, the Kamehameha statue, not only commemorates the most notable event, but it is a most interesting occurrence, in Hawaiian history. The photograph of this statue in plaster, as 7. provides that if a physician furnish any pre- exhibited in the city of Florence, Italy, is before us, and we have seen a letter from that city, in which we are assured that James Jackson Jarves, tenced to bard labor for not more than two years, a noted art critic, and former resident of these islands, also other gentlemen familiar with the islands, expressed a high admiration for this statue as a work of art, and as an illustration of Hawaiian physique, being copied from photo-visited this country in 1816. This portrait represents the old hero at about 64 years of age when he was painted rather inartistically in shirt sleeves, as may be seen in the original painting the property of the Henorable Mrs. Bishop. The so-called portrait, hanging up in the Legislative Hall, is a copy by a Mr. Nelson, and an imper-

The artist was led to study the fine description of Kamehameha, or "Tamaahamaha," by Vancouver, when the chief presented himself before COURT LINDSAY, NO. 6,600, A. O. F. the British Commander with a feather woven belmet on his head, a royal feather cloak round his person, and spear in hand. The model for the belmet was found in the Museum of the American Board of Foreign Missions in Boston, and there is one in the Museum at the Government building in this city; the feather cloak, a small one, found in Boston was used as a study of the surface of the peculiar mantle; but the model of the exact style worn by the most distinguished of the ancient aliis. was supplied to the Committee, by His Majesty the King, as also the feather belt and baldric. The spear of Kamehameha, deposited in the Boston Museum, and mentioned in his history, by Sheldon Dibble, was also studied, and in respect to sandals, the artist was instructed by the Committee to modify the simple style of the Hawaiian sandal, or kamaa, as worn at this day in districts of Hawaii, and to exercise his own taste in giving a more classic appearance to the

The pose of the statue, with spear in the left hand, and the right outstretched with open palm, indicates, as we suppose, the successful warrior inviting the people of these isles to accept the peace and order that he had secured.

The outstretched band in the picture appears gold bronze, is now finished in the city of Paris. The bronzes of that city being regarded as superior to any others in the world. And we understand that all foreign diplomats, eminent French citizens, and accomplished artists of that city, have thronged to look upon the statue of the wonderful Polynesian, who founded the Hawaiian King-
